Pricing Publisher & Engine

Pricing Publisher and Pricing Engine are backend systems that pull in data, calculate, and send back prices ensuring accurate prices are being presented and charged to customers.

Pricing Publisher

The Pricing Publisher sends pricing to various applications and services, ensuring prices are always accurately displayed across all customer touchpoints.

Pricing Engine

The Pricing Engine is sent items to price by a processing application, such as POS. The Pricing Engine then runs a series of complex logic and instantaneously returns the items pricing details with discount(s) applied
